

February 2018

SECTOR	Humanitarian Studies, Analysis, or Applications
SUB-SECTOR	Applied Studies, Analysis, or Applications
Indicator: Number of special studies, program evaluations, applied research activities (development or basic research), sector assessments, or feasibility studies completed and disseminated among relevant stakeholders
INDICATOR DESCRIPTION
Definition(s): To satisfy this indicator, the document or report must be funded by USAID/OFDA with appropriate USAID branding and marking, unless specifically directed otherwise. If there are multiple versions of the same or similar work these can be counted multiple times if they would be cited as different documents in a formal reference. Dissemination among relevant stakeholders should include anyone interested in the topic, such as practitioners in the same field of work as the study topic and/or the donor community and the distribution mechanism would include the Development Experience Clearinghouse or other online resource.
Numerator: N/A
Denominator: N/A
Unit of Measure: Number of publications
Disaggregated by: N/A
Suggested Data Collection Method: Record of official citations available
Suggested Data Source: Program documents and other regular reporting

SECTOR	Humanitarian Studies, Analysis, or Applications
SUB-SECTOR	Applied Studies, Analysis, or Applications
Number of studies, program evaluations, applied research activities, sector assessments, or feasibility studies used to inform, guide, or improve programming
INDICATOR DESCRIPTION

Definition(s): To satisfy this indicator, the document or report must be funded by USAID/OFDA with appropriate USAID branding and marking, unless specifically directed otherwise. If there are multiple versions of similar work, such as a formative and summative evaluations or two different yearly assessments of the same project, these can be counted multiple times if they can be cited as different documents a formal reference. A document can be considered to inform or guide improved programming if there are examples of meaningful change in program operations or policy as a result of the work.

Numerator: N/A

Denominator: N/A

Unit of Measure: Number of publications

Disaggregated by: N/A

Suggested Data Collection Method: Record of official citations available matched with examples of meaningful change in program operations or policy

Suggested Data Source: Program documents and other regular reporting